

PRESS RELEASE – FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Workshop Retreats in San Diego, California

New workshops offering as an off-site retreat in beautiful Downtown San Diego, California.

SAN DIEGO, California – March 2019— Garofalo UX is excited to announce a new offering of innovation and user experience workshops, or as we like to call them “Innovation Vacations.”

An experienced facilitator will assist your team to capture ideas from a user/customer perspective through our Innovation & UX Workshop Retreat brainstorming activities. A private, design-thinking workshop can be focused on product strategy innovation, creative brainstorming, and / or user-centered problem solving.

For the creative and innovative ideas to start flowing, you need to get outside of your office and away from your daily tasks. Help your team to stimulate creative, innovative ideas while enjoying beautiful Downtown San Diego, California. The activities within these workshops can help to challenge the status quo. One Day and Multi-Day workshops are available.
